88. Cheque Payment

88.1. Cheque payment function available in Simple Application:

On the basis of the outsourcing agreement concluded between the Service Provider and Magyar Posta Zrt., the Service Provider provides access to cheque payment service of Magyar Posta Zrt. in the Simple System and in the Simple Application. The Service Provider also provides technical conditions and software infrastructure necessary to access the service through the Simple Application. By integrating the Cheque Payment interface into the Simple System, the Service Provider as a technical contributor provides IT back-end solution to enable the use of the Cheque Payment service of Magyar Posta Zrt. for the User through the Cheque Payment menu option of the Simple System. The Service Provider's order under the abovementioned outsourcing agreement is limited to facilitating the conclusion of an agreement for the provision of payment services between the Users and Magyar Posta Zrt. The Service Provider does not participate in the provision of the payment service of Magyar Posta Zrt. in any way.

The Service Provider shall not be liable and explicitly excludes its liability for "not Simple-specific" operation of the Check Payment service, i. e. operation which is independent of the Simple System.

The User may use the Cheque Payment service after registering in the Simple System.

Users registered in the Simple System scan the Postal Code displayed on the Cheque choosing the Cheque Payment option when opening the Simple Application, then the Simple System displays the amount payable based on the scanned data and the User pays the displayed amount using one of the payment methods available in the Simple System.

The User is not able to store or save the scanned Cheque data in the Simple System, he/she is only able to pay the scanned Cheque immediately. The scanned Cheque and its details cannot be saved or stored in the Simple System for future payment.

Cheque Payment through the Simple System is subject to acceptance of the Posta GTC by the User by checking a checkbox or by other appropriate means. Without this, the payment process cannot be initiated or it will be unsuccessful.

Acceptance of the Posta GTC in the manner described above shall constitute the User's explicit statement that the User has fully become aware of the provisions of the GTC regarding the Cheque Payment service, he/she understood the provisions and expresses his/her consent to be bound by them.

The Posta GTC regarding the Cheque Payment Service is available on the website indicated in the section Posta GTC of Definitions. Magyar Posta Zrt. is solely liable for the content, factual, legal and other compliance, legality and availability of the Posta GTC and for its amendments, therefore the Service Provider shall not be liable and it explicitly excludes its liability.

The Service Provider shall not be responsible for placement and printing of Postal Codes on Cheques scanned by the Cheque Payment service, therefore the Service Provider shall not be liable to the User for inefficient printing, for unscannable or unprocessable codes, for the accuracy of scanned data, and for inefficient operation of the Cheque Payment service caused by these issues.

The User acknowledges that the Cheque Payment Service available in the Simple System provides only one free option for the User to access his/her debit account with his/her credit card to settle his/her debt to third parties by his/her credit card through the Simple System and the Internet. Based on the above, the Service Provider shall not be liable for performance or non-performance of the third party's legal relationship with the User or for any action taken by that third party towards the User.

By using the Cheque Payment service of the Simple Application, only one Cheque's Postal code can be scanned at a time and only one Cheque can be paid at a time. The Posta GTC specifies the maximum value of Cheques can be paid in a payment transaction and determines the availability and service period of the Cheque Payment service. The Service Provider shall not be liable for any restrictions set forth in the Posta GTC, the Service Provider shall provide the Cheque Payment service under the terms and conditions specified in the respective Posta GTC, at the time of service period specified therein and with other restrictions.

If the Postal Code of the Cheques paid in the Simple System through the Cheque Payment service is re-scanned in the Simple Application, Simple alerts the User that the Cheque has already been paid. Repayment may be resumed at the discretion of the User. The Service Provider does not guarantee and it shall not be liable for sending and correctness of the repeated payment alert under this paragraph, the Service Provider excludes its liability for any damages, costs or other adverse consequences arising on the side of the User and others as a consequence of the non-alert or the incorrect alert. It is the User's responsibility to check whether the Cheque has been paid and, if so, how many times. The Service Provider is unaware of any other payment completed elsewhere than in the Cheque Simple System. In the case of a Cheque Payment by such other means, the alert for repayment in the Simple System will not be displayed.

Magyar Posta Zrt. informs the User about success and failure of the payment transaction at the e-mail address provided by the Service Provider to Magyar Posta Zrt.

Users may contact Simple Customer Service with their questions and complaints regarding the Cheque Payment service, related to the Simple System. With other questions and complaints related to the Cheque Payment service Posta GTC, they may contact the Customer Service of Magyar Posta Zrt. specified in the Posta GTC. The Service Provider shall not be liable for complaints addressed to Magyar Posta Zrt. and for handling of complaints by Magyar Posta Zrt.

As regards the Cheque Payment Service, the legal relationship is established between the User and Magyar Posta Zrt. by acceptance of the Posta GTC. The Service Provider does not participate in this legal relationship, the Service Provider provides for the User only the Simple System as a technical platform for the Cheque Payment Service. Therefore, if the User would have any claims in addition to the Simple System, related to the Cheque Payment service, he/she can directly enforce this claim against Magyar Posta Zrt. The Service Provider does not take any claims.

Notification of successful payment transaction by Magyar Posta Zrt. does not mean that the cash payment has been executed at the same time as the abovementioned notification, i. e. the amount of the debt has been credited to the account of the third party in legal relationship with the User pursuant to the respective Civil Code in force. Credit may take several banking days, similarly to traditional payment/access methods.

It is incumbent upon other parties involved in the settlement of the payment transaction and the current business rules and general terms and conditions of third parties in a legal relationship with the User:

- whether the amount paid is received by the third party within the time limit for payment;
- the day by which the third party charges interest or penalty; as well as
- whether the third party terminates the agreement with the User, withdraws from the agreement or applies other legal consequences in the event of a delayed payment pursuant to the Civil Code.

Thus, the Service Provider shall not be liable for the abovementioned matters and it explicitly excludes its liability.

The User does not pay a charge for the use of the Cheque Payment Service. Upgrade of the Simple System is also free of charge. However, it does not preclude the occurrence of payment obligations towards third parties on the side of the User related to the Cheque Payment service based on a separate legal relationship (e. g. transfer fee, financial transaction tax). Downloading the Simple System and its new versions as well as use of the Simple System may have data traffic costs depending on the terms of the Internet service used by the User, which shall be borne by the User.

The Service Provider informs the User that availability of the Cheque Payment service depends on the availability of Magyar Posta Zrt.'s system, thus the Service Provider shall not be liable for the failure of the service and for any resulting complaints or any possible claims. The User explicitly acknowledges and accepts this disclaimer.

In case of the exercise of the right of termination, the Service Provider is entitled to the offset of the service provided until the date of termination and the User shall be refunded by that part of the offset which exceeds the value of the actual service provided. In course of the settlement the amount payable proportionally by the User shall be calculated on the basis of the total amount of the consideration increased by tax. If the User proves that the total amount is extravagant, the proportional amount shall be calculated on the basis of the market-value of the service performed until the date of the termination of the contract. In course of the definition of the market-value the identical services of the companies exercising the same activity shall be taken into account on the offset applicable at the date of the conclusion of the contract. According to the present paragraph, the User is obliged to reimburse the Service Provider for its reasonable costs if the Service Provider commenced providing the service at the expressed prior request of the User and he exercises his right of termination after commencement of the performance.
